Volunteer Spotlight - Randi Perlman

On February 23, 2016 the Frontiersman announced that Randi Perlman had received their highly regarded 'Woman of Influence' Award

For the past 16 years, Randi Perlman has been a committed participant within the Mat-Su Valley, and regularly volunteers her time and expertise. At one point, six different organizations were influenced by Randi. These organizations have benefited from her wide-ranging business knowledge and non-profit experience, as a volunteer, staff, or as a Board member. Her enthusiasm for, and involvement in, the community organizations she has volunteered with takes on additional significance, when realizing these accomplishments are above and beyond her full-time job as Co-owner and Chief Executive Officer of Steve's Toyo Stove Repair.

Randi stepped up as President for Alaska Wildbird Rehabilitation Center (AWBRC) when a move to a new location, an influx of new volunteers, and a need for upgraded wild bird housing required more fundraising, new training, and a reorganization of responsibilities. Randi met these challenges with tact, cautious spending, and by leading an energized and enthusiastic Board. Today, through her influence as President for two years, Randi continues as a Board Director with well-earned pride in a financially sound Center, an upgraded facility, and a staff qualified and fully committed to pursue the AWBRC mission.

From an early age, Randi has had a love of all animals (particularly birds). Her desire to help and care for Alaska's wild birds as a charter member, wild bird presenter and Board member of AWBRC has been an inspiration to our local community. Randi has truly brightened our lives with her caring attitude and enthusiastic outlook, as she freely dedicates her skills as a successful and active businesswoman to all our endeavors.

We had a great response to our Volunteer Training event, and are delighted to see new talent at work in Alaska Wildbird Rehabilitation Center! A particular thank you for the high energy, great efforts, and enthusiasm at work among our new helpers. We will have more training tutorials - keep your eyes open for upcoming events. And again, thank you to our new and returning helpers.
